Handling of unexploded shells from the former Southwestern Mining Ground area has cost the lives of six persons, but Saturday's dramatic appearance of an FBI man in Hope brought a disclosure we hadn't thought of—

Some of the metal salvage smuggled out of the SPG reached United States Steel corporation at Pittsburgh, Pa., and caused an explosion in a smelter.

Curiosity and greed not only kill our own people—but menace the lives of steelworkers handling mile-hot metal a thousand miles from Hope.

When the Army vacated the SPG and turned it back to civilian ownership it issued specific instructions and warnings. The Star assumed these were to be taken literally, and enforced without exception. But they have been disregarded—and the only wonder is that but six people have been killed. The hazard of hauling big-caliber ammunition down public thoroughfares is something to disturb the conscience of every citizen.

Hope forbids entry of this stuff into the city proper. But the traffic has gone on, and there's been no prosecution. Never an arrest, never a fine, never a jail sentence... although this is traffic carried on against the public interest solely because it's profitable.

The Star has given repeated warnings about this. An alarmed public has helped us get information. We've published it—and will continue to do so.

Right here we want to thank City Officer Raymond Pedron, whose story published in this column May 29 set off the current cycle of publicity. Mr. Pedron had an unsurpassed right to speak—his own son was killed because some vandals smuggled a 37-mm. shell out of the SPG during the war, and left it in a vacant house . . . where children made a plaything of it.

May 31 we printed Deputy Prosecutor Royce Weisenberger's report on a personal inspection of the SPG diggings.

June 8 there was publication in full of the stipulations and warnings by the Farm Credit Administration, St. Louis, to private landowners at the time these dangerous SPG areas were sold by the government.

And there was the climax last Saturday, June 16, when the FBI and federal demolition experts descended on our town and found live ammunition inside the corporate limits. That was when we learned, for the first time, that some of this so-called scrap metal had exploded in a steel furnace in distant Pittsburgh.

This is a summary of events that shouldn't happen again. No one in our community is proud of the Associated Press dispatch that went out at length on the trunk wire for the Sunday newspapers back East—not sabotage, just incredible inattention to the common rules of public safety.

The tools of war are designed to kill—and they usually do.

Magnolians Invite City to Horse Show

Officials of the city, representatives of the press, and Chamber of Commerce were hosts today to a group of Magnolia, Arkansas citizens visiting in Hope publicizing Magnolia's 1951 Horse Show.

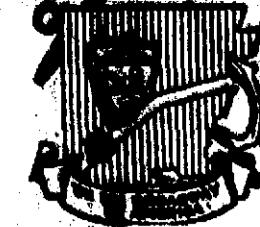

The Magnolia delegation was met on the outskirts of the city with a special police escort and brought to the city hall. Joe Ida, chairman of the Publicity Committee of the Magnolia Horsemen's Association, presented the mayor, the press and the Chamber of Commerce special guest tickets for the Monday night, June 25th performance of the horse show.

On that evening the show will be quashed guests from our city will be recognized. In the goodwill group from Magnolia were a representative from the Columbia County sheriff's office, Joe Ida, Patricia Cole, Jo Dene Randolph, Donna Hankey, representing the Magnolia Horsemen's Association, and J. A. Craig Jr., manager of the Magnolia Chamber of Commerce.

The three car caravan traveling on a precision schedule arrived promptly at 12:00 p. m. and departed for Prescott at 1:30 p. m. This year's horse show will be one of the best ever presented in South Arkansas according to the representatives.

Entries have been received from fifteen states and as far away as Pennsylvania. Hugh Hartley, nationally known trainer, is manager of the 1951 Horse Show. The show dates are June 25, 26 and 27, and it will be held in the rodeo arena.

Outnumbered U.S. Planes Down 6 Red Jets

Tokyo, June 18 — (AP) — Outnumbered American Sabre jets destroyed six Russian-type jets and damaged eight others in two big air battles over Korean yesterday and today.

A total of 108 planes were involved in the sudden aerial war.

Sixteen Red jets made a third stab at four Sabre jets Monday afternoon but were driven off at distance. They had twice crossed the F-86, then streaked back across the Yalu river into the safety of Manchuria.

All American planes returned safely. Far East Air Forces said.

Reappearance of the Red jets in force coincided with indications the Chinese may be preparing a new ground offensive.

Red troops suddenly appeared in territory they had previously deserted. Reinforcements also filtered down from the north, hidden groups all along the front.

Flare-lit dogfights flickered.

Allied moves in the center of the line. But Allied patrols Monday drove more than three miles into Red territory. In the West, Red gained slightly over a mile in the East.

Two U. S. armored tank battalions rumbled up the west side of the former Red iron triangle, shooting at small Chinese communist bands on the way. American armored patrol trying to sweep up the east side from Kunming was forced back by road mine and mortar fire.

Small fights broke out all along the west and center. A British officer said Reds were still carrying a delivery type of weapons.

In the New Zealand sector, U. N. troops back from a raiding mission for which they had been deeply abandoned, advanced for which they had been deeply abandoned.

Eighteen bombers were sent out in strong support of the American forces mounted 400 sorties last night Monday, including three flights along the Korean coast road ports.

Five photo reporters who had been missing since the start of the war were found safe and well.

Eleven planes were shot down before the two air battles.

Eighty-four planes were lost in the two air battles.

Eighty-four planes were lost in the two air battles.

Meanwhile no legal action is being considered by local authorities following a check of the W. M. Duckett Salvaged Yard Saturday, which a "live" mortar was discovered.

The Federal Bureau of Investigation has been satisfied that no sabotage was involved when material shipped from the Duluth plant caused an explosion several days ago in the U. S. Steel mill at Pittsburgh. The FBI agent doing the investigation indicated that he did not know of any action planned.

Mr. Duckett already has told officials that he would not buy any more scrap from the Proving Ground area.

Local officials are primarily interested in halting the sale of scrap shells in this section. So far as can be learned no legal action is planned. Most of the officers believe that Saturday's incident will stop shell salvaging for some time to come.

Captain John A. Rust, Commander of the local National Guard unit, announced today that the unit has completed two days of Instructional and Record Firing at the McRae, Brinkley, Automatic Rifle, Capt. 40 Field and the Capt. 30, 30, at Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Arkansas June 16 and 17.

Captain Rust said that he was well pleased with the results of the Record Firing. Each man qualified with his assigned weapon, he said.

Captain Rust said that all members of Company "A" report for drill Tuesday night in a clean and well pressed khaki uniform. Guardsmen who have not drawn a khaki uniform must without fail, go by the Army uniform and not later than noon tomorrow, and draw one, he said.

Arkansan Asks Bi-Partisan Foreign Policy

Washington, June 18 — (AP) — Rep. Brooks Hays (D-Ark.) made a plea today for a return to the bi-partisan approach to foreign policy problems.

"Let's suspend the political vendettas until 1952," Hays urged in a house speech.

"If it is inevitable that foreign policy should become a political issue in 1952 it nevertheless would be ignoble for either party in 1951 to seek an advantage with only presidential politics in mind," he said.

Hays said he agrees that it is more important for a foreign policy to be right than to be bi-partisan "but it is my conviction that in the year 1951 it is not right unless it is bi-partisan."

Much of the confusion in the country's thinking today, Hays said, is due to the inability of congress to maintain bi-partisanship.

"We must not permit one party to become identified with success in Korea, for the suffering that has come from that far away enterprise touches families of every political affiliation. Still it could come about that the administration would gain an advantage to which it is not entitled if unrestrained party warfare continues in certain channels," he said.

"To make my meaning clear I will quote one of the saddest things I have heard, one of Mr. Truman's critics said 'it would just be this administration's luck to have the Korean war wind up victoriously.' He implied he would hate to see that happen. Equally unreasonable are some of Mr. Truman's partisans. They would make a Korean victory the occasion for a Democratic rally."

He suggested these as things congress might do to create a more favorable atmosphere in which to legislate:

1. Resolve not to permit issues to be defined in petterson terms. "Administration adherents must not withhold concessions if General MacArthur is shown to be right, and on the other hand his partisans must make it a little easier for alterations to be made in our policy as events tend to supply answers to some questions."

2. Accept in "the most sportsmanlike way one of the hazards of democratic life, namely, that differences between the parties and conflicts between points of view of the allied nations must be settled right turn the open."

3. Both sides should agree that the United States will not inaugurate a preventive war and that world war must be avoided if possible. Both sides should agree that neither side will exploit fears of a global conflict or of communist gains through irresponsible use of such terms as appeasement and war mongering."

We are holding this event primarily to teach the youth of America good sportsmanship. We believe that through competitive sports events we can help train these families who lost their home, clothing and a member of the family, will always remain in their memory," Ralls declared.

Many others have sent in clothing and various articles. Donations are being accepted at the Red Cross office or at the Hope Star. Anything that can be of use to these families who lost their home, clothing and a member of the family, will be appreciated.

Hope Marble Champ, Young Chris Cook, in for a Big Time at Nat'l Tournament

Many Send in Articles to Help Stricken Families

Albuquerque, N. Mex., June 16—This city is waiting with anticipation the arrival of Chris Cook of Hope, Ark., the Veterans of Foreign Wars state marble champion and the champ of all the other states and territories who will arrive here June 21 to compete for the V. F. W. national marble crown.

The V. F. W. tournament is sanctioned this year by the Amateur Athletic Union of the United States, making it the official national amateur contest, according to Charles C. Rails, Commander-in-chief.

The state officials in New Mexico, and city officials of Albuquerque are going all-out to make the visit of these youngsters a memorable occasion for them. The Southwest has much to offer, and I am sure that not only will the tournament be a success, but these lads will see a section of America that will always remain in their memory.

Mr. Kate Shiver contributed an electric refrigerator and table and chairs, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bailey sent in some money and a package and Mr. Paul L. Church of Oklahoma Tire and Supply has indicated he will furnish the families with all the cooking utensils they need.

Many others have sent in clothing and various articles. Donations are being accepted at the Red Cross office or at the Hope Star.

Anything that can be of use to these families who lost their home, clothing and a member of the family, will be appreciated.

Brother of Hope Woman Killed in Korean War

Murfreesboro, June 18—Richard Dean Musgrave, 19, was killed in action in the Korean area last Tuesday where he was serving as a Navy fitterman.

Musgrave is the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Musgrave of Murfreesboro.

Survivors include three brothers, Robert Musgrave of Nashville, Jack Musgrave of Phoenix, Ariz., and S. E. Musgrave of the Army and six sisters, Mrs. Herman Anderson, Mrs. Jimmie Cox, and Mrs. Harold Wright, all of Murfreesboro, Mrs. Joyce Osborn, Conway, Mrs. Curtis Chambers, Roslyn, Wash., and Mrs. J. W. Honeycutt of Hope.

Donations of clothing and money and household goods for the Campbell and Brooks families are coming in, the Hempstead Red Cross Chapter announced today, indicating that many more things are needed to help out the stricken families.

The state officials are staging a dinner in honor of their young visitors. The tournament officially gets underway in the City Armory. At that time the winners of the various classes to make the affair a representative "Youth Parade."

That night Governor Edwin L. Mechem and the Albuquerque city manager are staging a dinner in honor of their young visitors. The tournament officially gets underway in the City Armory. At that time the winners of the various classes to make the affair a representative "Youth Parade."

Each day the lads will arise at 7:00 a. m. They will attend a flag raising each morning, and pledge their allegiance to the national emblem. A daily chapel period has been arranged in the morning and the afternoons are given over to entertainment and sightseeing. The boys will visit real Isleta Indian village; they will see the Kirkland Army Air Base; and the Maisels Indian Jewelry manufacturers, and they will see cowboys do some real western roping.

The tournament final is scheduled at the Armory Saturday night, June 23, where the national V. F. W. champion will be crowned. Tilton Holt, Jr., of Wilmington, Delaware, 1950 champion, will be on hand to defend his honors. Should he lose he will pass the crown to his successor.

From all indications the state champion—win or lose—will have the time of his life in Albuquerque.

Police Probing Attempted Robbery Near Bodcaw

Arkansas State Police have been called in on an attempted robbery early this morning in the Bodcaw bottoms, although full details could not be learned immediately.

Sgt. Milton Mosier said three negroes tried to stop a Mrs. Whitehead who handled a payroll for a lumber firm in the area. She had the payroll when the negroes tried to stop her. She sped up the auto and hit one of the negroes, police said.

She didn't seem to think the negro was hurt badly although she carried him to the ground. "I had to spend a lot of time

Death Penalty for Dope Sellers Is Proposed

St. Louis, June 18 — (AP) — The new chairman of the Senate Crime Investigating Committee today proposed indirectly that the death penalty be invoked for dope peddlars.

"The Lindbergh law was invoked to stop kidnapping and a similar measure must be taken to put the fear of God into these outlaws," Sen. O'Connor (R-N.Y.) said in speech prepared for the Kiwanis International convention. The Lindbergh law carries the death penalty.

The population of the federal hospital indicates, O'Connor said, "the percentage of narcotic users under 21 years of age has increased 300 per cent during past several years."

"It justifies the utmost indignation on the part of all citizens to the point where those who are engaged in this business of ruining young people morally and physically may be made to pay the most severe penalties in the way of stern sentences," he said.

Organized criminal syndicates that handled liquor in the prohibition era and later turned to control of gambling may now be expected to take over the dope traffic unless measures are taken to prevent it, O'Connor said.

He said the crime committee is delving into this problem, and added:

"This is a field of criminal activity which, as present, committee, I am thoroughly convinced offers the greatest opportunity for effective corrective action."

He said he had much information available after World War II, contributed to the formation of the Union Soviet Comintern, but he may have lost his confidence in the communists, they remained unimpaired.

The committee's report, however, did not say that the American government should not be concerned about the potential one-sidedness of the situation. It is

Trumanites to Fight for Controls

Washington, June 18.—(AP)—President Truman's congressional leaders told him today they will try for enactment of stronger economic control legislation before the June 30 expiration of the defense production act.

Neither House Speaker Rayburn nor Senate Democratic Leader McFarland are in favor of a temporary extension of the existing authority.

"Thirty days is no good," Rayburn said when asked about some speculation centering around such an extension.

And McFarland said he wanted to see a bill passed—"I prefer to get the issue out of the way."

Rayburn said that if the present law is extended 30 days, "we'd be right back where we are now."

Rayburn said the House banking committee hopes to get a controls bill to the House this week, but he is not too sure of it. McFarland said the Senate "hopes to get its bill the latter part of the week."

They conferred with the President along with Vice President Barkley and House Majority Leader McCormick.

Rayburn said that Congress is in no mood at this time to revise the Ken amendment banning economic aid to countries trading behind the Iron Curtain.

"I don't think they understand the implications of it," Rayburn told the reporters.

The administration has contended that the strict enforcement of the amendment sponsored by Senator Ken (R-Mo.) would put an end to the economic cooperation administration program.

Meanwhile, its operation has been suspended for approximately 60 days by action of the national security council of which Mr. Truman is chairman. The council gave blanket exemptions to all countries receiving ECA aid pending further examination of their trading with the Soviet bloc.

Although Defense Mobilizer Charles E. Wilson yesterday expressed confidence that Congress will "recognize the necessity" of extending the defense production act, signs mounted that the administration may have to settle for a stop-gap extension on an-as-basis.

Counting today, Congress has at best only 12 working days in which to act.

Aid Would Go to Three Schools

Washington, June 18.—(AP)—A tentative reservation of $22,012,049 as the federal share for 85 school construction projects—including three in Arkansas—has been announced by Earl J. McGrath, U.S. Commissioner of Education.

They are in areas determined to be critical by reason of national defense activities or where the federal government assumed financial responsibility.

Final action is dependent upon receipt of field reports and engineering date supplied by the housing and home finance agency.

The list of projects with the name of the applicant and the amount of federal funds tentatively reserved, includes:

Arkansas: White Hall school district No. 27, Pine Bluff, $104,850; Dollarway school district No. 2, Jefferson County, Pine Bluff, $306,200; and Fairview public school district No. 16, Camden, $200,000.

State Boosted for Industrial Grants

Washington, June 18.—(AP)—The joint committee on the economic report said today 25 certificates to encourage expansion of defense industries were granted in Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas up to May 25.

In a report the congressional committee said 18 certificates were issued for Louisiana, six for Mississippi and five for Arkansas. They cover proposed investments by the administration. The certificates permit business concerns to deduct from their federal taxes over a 5-year period up to 100 per cent of the capital cost.

For the nation, the committee said 1,370 certificates had been issued up to May 25 on total proposed investment of nearly $4,000,000 on which accelerated tax amortization of over $4,000,000 had been allowed.

The committee report called the program a most important one for encouraging industrial expansion.

New Home Agent Named

Little Rock, June 18.—(AP)—Appointment of Mrs. Hazel C. Jordan as state home demonstration agent was announced today by L. A. Rhouau, associated director of the University of Arkansas agricultural extension service.

The appointment will become effective July 10.

A member of the extension service staff for 17 years, Mrs. Jordan succeeds the late Miss Connie J. Burridge.

Mrs. Jordan, a native of Stone (Union county), has been serving as acting associate state home demonstration agent since Mrs. Burridge's retirement last year.

U. S. Envoy to Meet With Iran Leader

Tehran, Iran, June 18.—(AP)—United States Ambassador Henry F. Grady planned to meet ailing Iranian Premier Mohammed Mossadegh today in a move aimed at lowering the temperature of the boiling Anglo-Iranian oil crisis.

Mossadegh has just received a personal message from British Foreign Secretary Herbert Morrison expressing the hope that British-Iranian negotiations on the future of the billion-dollar Anglo-Iranian Oil company—whose holdings Iran has nationalized—would be conducted in a friendly atmosphere.

Truman Confident of Eventual Peace

South Fallsburg, N. Y., June 18—President Truman said yesterday the United States, "with patience and determination and with God's help," will preserve peace and the free way of life.

Mr. Truman made the statement in a message to the annual convention of the Independent Order of B'nai Abraham.

"Communist imperialism," the President said, "is challenging our way of life and it is threatening a right of the other peoples of the earth to create a good life for themselves and in their own way." He added:

"Together with other members of the United Nations, we Americans have embarked on a course which is designed to protect the principle of collective security" and to keep the peace.

Petain's Term Commuted to Hospital

Paris, June 18 — (AP) — President Vincent Auriol has commuted the life imprisonment sentence of Marshal Henri Philippe Petain to permanent confinement in a hospital. — But Petain may never be moved from the military prison on the Ile D'Yeu.

The president announced the decision yesterday a few minutes after the polls closed in France's national elections. The decision to change the sentence of the World War I hero of Verdun was reached June 8, but kept a secret to avoid political repercussions.

Petain, now 93, is so ill that doctors report he cannot be lifted from his bed, according to the marshal's wife. The order may do nothing more than change the administration of the fortress on the Ile D'Yeu from a military prison to a military medical service.

Petain, convicted of treason after World War II for his part in the Vichy government which ruled France after the Nazi victory, thus technically will die in a hospital rather than in a prison.

There was some talk that the old marshal might be taken to a private home on the Ile D'Yeu but this depended wholly upon whether he recovered enough to be moved.

The President's decree ordered the minister of justice and the prime minister to carry out its provisions, and it noted that until the aged marshal could be moved to a military hospital on the mainland the prison should be called a hospital.

DeGaulists Strongest French Party

Paris, June 18 — (AP) — Gen. Charles De Gaulle's new party appeared on the way today to being the strongest single political unit in France's new national assembly, but the middle of the road parties seemed to be retaining control of the next parliament.

With three quarters of the vote in yesterday's national elections counted, Gen. de Gaulle's Rally of the French People (RPF) had won 107 assembly seats and had run up an impressive total of 3,138,599 votes of the 15,000,000 counted up to now in unofficial tabulations.

In terms of popular vote the Communists still were out in front, but the Red party was losing many seats. At the three quarter mark the Communists had lost at least nine of the seats they held in the old parliament. But in popular vote the Communists were out in front as a single party, with 3,844,720, or 25.7 per cent of the 15,000,000 votes counted up to noon. This was a little behind their popular vote showing in the last election in 1946, when their vote was 28.5 per cent of the total.

Despite De Gaulle's strong showing in this election, watched throughout the world as one aspect of the east-west war of ideas, his party did not appear to be running up the total in assembly seats which it had expected.

The center parties whose coalition ruled the nation since 1946, to the exclusion both of the De Gaulists and the Communists, had a better than even chance of keeping that control in parliament in a similar combine.

With 15,000,000 of the 20,000,000 vote's cast yesterday — the total eligible to vote was 24,000,000 — the unofficial returns showed 27 assembly seats at stake:

The Communists had 9 seats and 3,844,740 votes; the De Gaulles, 107 seats and 3,137,599 votes; the Socialists, 97 seats and 2,35,32 votes; the MRP (Popular Republicans) 77 seats and 1,818,630 votes; the Left Republicans, 65 seats and 1,55,235 votes; along the latter three parties, along with some independents, make up the coalition. The independent parties and the Peasants party had cornered about 100 seats at the three-quarter mark.

The left Republicans include two branches of the Radical-Socialist party and the Democratic Union headed by former Premier Eeene Pleven. Pleven's party had five seats and the two Radical-Socialist wings 80 between them.

Miss Truman Is En Route to Paris

Luxembourg, June 18 — (AP) — Margaret Truman left here today by car to have her first look at Paris.

The President's daughter expected to spend nearly a week in the French capital. She expressed the hope that her jammed schedule would permit some time for shopping.

From France, she will proceed to Italy, to conclude her European tour.

Miss Truman spent a busy three days here as guest of her old Washington friend, Mrs. Perl Mesta, U.S. minister to Luxembourg.

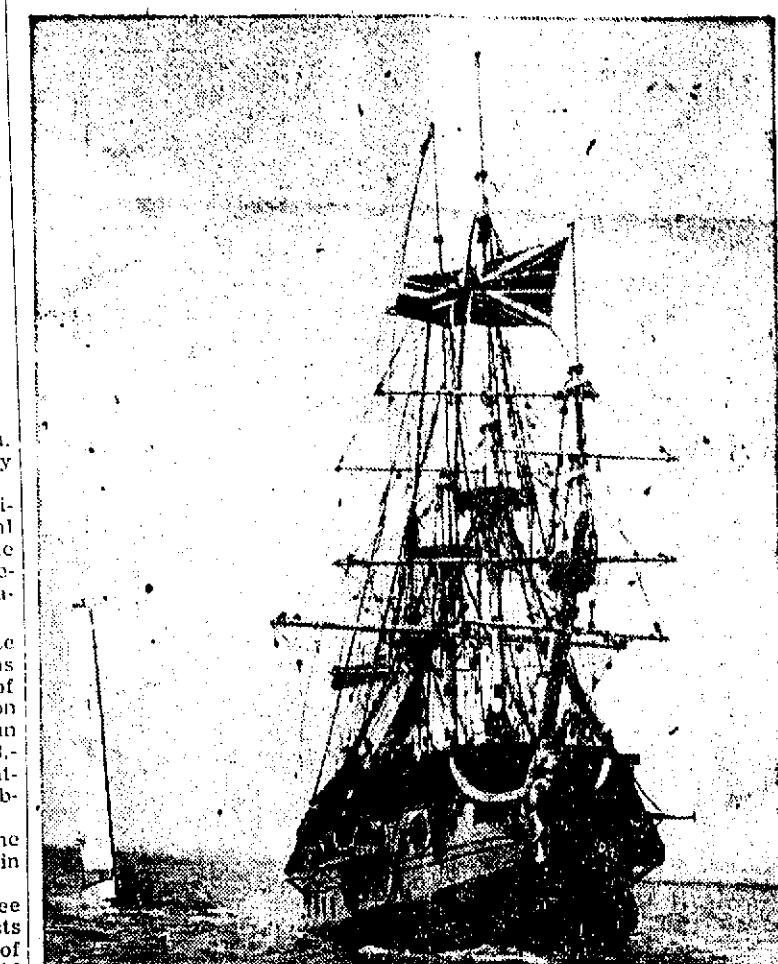

Mrs. Mesta accompanied Miss Truman for a state French border. The President's daughter then went on toward Paris, riding in Mrs. Mesta's car with two companions, Miss Ethel Odum, Miss Ruman's secretary, and Mrs. Frank Wright of Washington.

DOROTHY DIX

Schoolgirl Crush

Dear Miss Dix: I'm a senior in high school and am deeply devoted to my biology teacher. He is twelve years older than I am. I know he loves me as much as I love him.

We have met at several school functions and he has escorted me home and confessed his feeling.

My parents disapprove, but I feel as though I am old enough to know my own mind.

After I graduate we wish to get married, but the marriage will have to remain a secret until I'm of age. Would such a marriage insure our happiness in the future?

SALLY

Answer: Such a marriage will assuredly insure your misery in the future, Sally. Heed your parents' advice!! Wait!! Ond if in two or three years you and your teacher still think you love each other, you'll be able to begin married life proudly and joyfully, which is a far better start than a furtive ceremony.

Most schoolgirls at one time or another have a crush on an attractive male teacher, and while most teachers have the maturity and the sense to handle these lovebirds do not. Occasionally you'll find a good-looking teacher who fancies himself as a Don Juan and laps up all the adulation his pupils hand out. These men don't last very long in the profession; parents and school boards soon decide they're no good for the pupils in their care.

Your parents, Sally, should go one step further than merely disapproving of your crush. They should make a thorough investigation of your teacher's character and make sure he is fit for his job.

Hero-worshipping a teacher goes hand in hand with the adoration of crooners, movie stars and the current trend—opera singers. It is all a part of growing up, the phase passes and becomes nothing but a memory to chuckle over.

Better get some younger boy friends and confine your social activities to a group of your own age.

Discard the idea of a secret marriage, whatever you do. Such a step can bring nothing but unhappiness.

Dear Miss Dix: After eight years of marriage, I was divorced with my wife receiving the custody of our two small children. Visitation privileges have been very liberal and we are working it out to the narcotics at Lexington, Ky., in 1948. He listed 210 admissions in 1949 and 440 in 1950. He said the estimated 1951 total was about 300.

This drop, Dr. Vogel said, might indicate a downward trend, but also might reflect the fact that state institutions now are accepting young dope addicts, a practice started only this year.

New York City supplies 80 per cent of the youngsters entering the Lexington hospital, he added, with 25 per cent coming from Chicago.

Dr. Vogel is the medical officer in charge of the Lexington hospital and another at Fort Worth, Tex., with a total capacity of 2,400 beds for narcotics patients.

It was announced Saturday that 300 beds are to be added at the Fort Worth hospital.

Manhattan Assistant District Attorney Irving Slovin told the Legion conference that a two-year probe of illegal dope sales showed that $100,000 worth of narcotics a year was peddled illicitly here.

The estimate applied to the past two years.

of feeling sufficient to affect the success of our marriage?

BILL

Answer: Your fiance does not ask you to give up your children entirely, you say. How gracious of her! Believe me, Bill, you won't be back from the altar long before that will be her exact demand. You have to make a definite decision here, and don't fool yourself that it will be any other way. Either you give up your children entirely, or break your engagement. A woman who has so little consideration, and who can be as jealous of two small children now, will give you little peace in wedlock.

The mere fact that you have both been divorced is most assuredly not an important asset to have in common. A woman who really loved you, and had your interests at heart, would have sense enough to realize that your love for your children would not detract from your duties as a husband. She would be happy to have you see your young stars.

Dear Dorothy Dix: I am a boy 18 who is in love with a woman of 27. She is beautiful and appeals to me very much. She is divorced and has two children, aged 2 and 4. I have become attached to them, but my family is against my marrying her. Do you think I would do right to go ahead with the marriage?

Answer: You're talking absolute nonsense! At your age you are in no position to take on a ready-made family. The woman is much too old for you and I think you'd better listen to your family and end this attachment at once.

Sizzling Weather Smothers Southwest

Chicago, June 18 — (AP) — June's sizzling hot weather was showing no letup in the far Southwest today, but other parts of the country had near normal weather. Temperatures soared above 100 again yesterday in the country's torrid zone from the Rio Grande Valley in southern California, 115 at Presidio, Tex., 108 at Las Vegas, Nev., and 107 at Yuma, Ariz. Early today it was 87 at Needles, Calif.

A few showers were reported this morning along the Atlantic seaboard and from Lake Superior southward to Nebraska, and southward to the Texas-Oklahoma Panhandle. The rest of the country had fair weather.

'Mac' Up to His Neck in Politics

By JAMES MARLOW
Washington, June 18 (AP) — General MacArthur is now up to his neck in politics, although perhaps not on his own behalf.

He jumped in Saturday at Fort Worth when he made full-scale attack on the Truman administration for the way it operates at home.

He had returned to this country, after an absence of 12 years, as a critic of the Truman administration's handling of domestic affairs, too.

MacArthur made a whirlwind speaking trip through six Texas cities last week, defending and urging in five of them his views on how to win in Korea.

But in Fort Worth he never once spoke of Korea or foreign problems. He spoke there only of events at home.

At Fort Worth MacArthur, who has been mentioned as a possible Republican candidate for President, followed the favorite line taken by many Republican critics of the administration.

He struck at what he called the "internal subversion and corruption and detailed regimentation over our daily life . . . the drift away from our competitive system of free enterprise . . . the drift upward in the cost of bureaucracy . . . the drift toward socialism . . . the tax burden."

Senator Kerr, Oklahoma Democrat, reacted with this statement on MacArthur: "He's running for president as hard as he knows how. The Mac-Kado rides again."

MacArthur himself, almost at the moment he put foot on American soil in San Francisco last April when returning to talk to congress, said: "I have no political aspirations whatsoever."

And to a reporter who asked him last week in Texas if he would seek the presidency, MacArthur said "no."

But there is a certain amount of elasticity in both statements for in neither of them did MacArthur say he wouldn't accept the Republican presidential nomination if it's offered to him.

But the Truman administration, when it stripped him of all his commands, inflicted upon him one of the greatest humiliations ever dealt a general in military history.

And now that MacArthur has attacked the administration in both the foreign and domestic fields, it is clear his feeling against the administration is intense in all directions.

So even if he is never rewarded with the Republican nomination, it undoubtedly will be a satisfaction to him if he can help bring about the administration's defeat in the 1952 elections.

Until now the Democrats have handled MacArthur pretty gingerly for several reasons:

He had wide sympathy in his dismissal, immense prestige as a military expert, and wide experience in Asia. His quarrel with the administration was in the military and foreign fields.

His views on both were entitled to respectful hearing, even though his criticism of the administration on both counts may have hurt it politically among those he persuaded to his way of thinking.

So long as he confined his criticisms to military and foreign affairs, as he did almost exclusively, he could claim he was standing aloof from politics no matter what political effect he had.

But his Fort Worth attack is repeated — there's no reason to believe it won't be — should certainly be of political help to the Republicans in their fight on the administration. And in domestic affairs MacArthur can't claim to be a special authority.

So that puts him neck-deep in the American political brawl where the Democrats may feel a bit freer to start mussing his hair.

Wants to Be Ready to Strike Russia

Los Angeles, June 18 — (AP) — Gen. Joseph T. McNamara wants to hit Russia with "our already unprecedented destructive power" if a major war should be forced on us.

He addressed 350 graduates of Loyola University yesterday. The supreme allied commander in the Mediterranean did not say whether he meant atomic or hydrogen bombing of the Soviet Union.

McNamara, now assigned to Secretary of Defense Marshall, said the stabilization of the U.S. and other free nations may, "we hope and pray," prevent a third world war.

"However," he added, "if a major war should be forced on us, our work is pointed not only to stopping the enemy in his tracks, but to applying immediately our already unprecedented destructive power directly against the central might and backbone of Communist strength."

Funeral Rites Today for Colorful Judge

Washington, June 18 (AP) — The Federal Point ferry will take Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough to his eastern shore Maryland home for the last time today.

The colorful, 73-year-old judicial died here Saturday night of a heart attack at the home of his daughter-in-law, Mrs. T. Alan Goldsborough Jr.

His body was to lie in state until noon today at the Hines Funeral home here.

Scores of friends of the judge who levied the biggest fines in American legal history came to pay their respects.

Funeral services are planned for tomorrow at 2 p.m. at his Denton, Md., home.

Among the many messages of condolence received at Bentz yesterday was one from President Harry S. Truman.

"I share with the community in which he was always an outstanding citizen the loss which has come to you and to yours with such sudden and tragic force," Truman's message to the judge's widow read.

The federal judiciary has lost a member of massive stature, he wired.

The judge's body was expected to lie in the Goldsborough home from 1 p.m. today until 1 p.m. tomorrow. The funeral will be held in the Episcopal church not far from the family home.

In 1940 Goldsborough fined John L. Lewis $10,000 and the United Mine Workers $3,500,000 after Lewis refused to call off the coal strikes.

Lewis called the fines "cruel and inhuman punishment." The court upheld the fine on the UMW boss, but reduced the union's penalty to $700,000.

3 Million Korean War Casualties

New York, June 18 — (AP) — Korea's ambassador to the U.S. says war has taken a toll of 3,000,000 Koreans and made another 10,000,000 homeless.

Dr. Chan Yang says millions "have lost everything they owned—their homes, their possessions, their supplies of food; everything but the clothing they are actually wearing."

The official, who recently left his country, gave the figures yesterday in a statement accepting the honorary chairmanship of American Relief for Korea, Inc., a private organization collecting clothing and other supplies for shipment to Korea.

New Salary Group May Be Tough

Washington, June 18 — (AP) — The new salary stabilization board has served notice it will be as tough in approving salary boosts for executives as its parent group, the wage stabilization board, is in okaying pay raises.
